... rarely does anyone have enough of the ever charming Narcissus . . . so to add to your enjoyment of spring Wyatt's has searched the world for this unsurpassed array of prize winning varieties . . . and please note the low prices!

Among the most important of the spring flowering bulbs are the various Narcissus. Coming into bloom before the earliest tulips, their fresh, dainty blooms really open the flower season. There are the magnificent Giant Trumpets, Incomparabilis and Barri groups for splendid show; the Poeticus, Barri and Leeds groups for naturalizing; the Polyanthus, Poetaz and Giant Trumpets for forcing; all being excellent for beds or borders, and unsurpassed for cutting.

GIANT TRUMPET GROUP

ROBERT SYDENHAM—A giant flower of pure gold. The long shapely petals, slightly curved, form a wide perianth, supporting a superb, heavily frilled trumpet of golden yellow. The entire flower suggests rugged proportionate beauty. The length of the stem and the quality of the foliage strengthen the first impression. Entirely hardy and a free flowering variety. 3 bulbs 45c, 6 for 85c, 12 for $1.50, 25 for $2.75, 100 for $10.00, postpaid.

KING ALFRED—Large golden yellow flower of very fine appearance. Our stock of King Alfred is from the finest fields of that variety and far superior to most offerings. 3 bulbs 45c, 6 for 85c, 12 for $1.50, 25 for $2.75, 100 for $10.00, postpaid.

LEEDSI VARIETIES

. . . magnificent are the dazzling lilies . . . and so easy to raise . . . why not choose several varieties for your 1939 garden from Wyatt's array of world's best bulbs!

CULTURE—Lilies generally dislike lime, must have ample moisture but must be well drained. Regardless of the depth at which the variety is planted the soil should be deep, rich, loamy and rather gritty than stiff clay. Avoid full sun and too dense shade. The ideal situation for Lilies being in the perennial or shrub border where the lower parts of the plants are shaded while the top of the plants and flowers have access to ample air and light. Avoid ordinary manure which may cause the bulbs to rot, using Peat Moss and Sheep Manure mixed well into the bed.

AURATUM (Golden-rayed Lily of Japan)—Plant 10" to 12" deep where lower part of plant is shaded but not crowded by other roots. The enormous white flowers are gold banded with orange red roots. Blooms July-August. 4 to 6 ft. tall. 35c each, 3 for 95c, 6 for $1.75, 12 for $3.25, postpaid.

CANDIDUM (Madonna Lily) — Down through the ages this Lily of all Lilies has been the emblem of heavenly purity. Hardy and of easiest culture enduring sun or shade, Lilium candidum should be planted only an inch or two under the surface in a deep, well prepared and drained bed.

THE ALL-PURPOSE SPRAY

No More Bugs or Bothers

TRI-GEN once and for all solves the black-spot problem. It gives complete protection against all fungous diseases, including mildew, black-spot, rust, canker, etc.

TRI-GEN protects absolutely against all insect pests.

Its stimulating value promotes vigor and growth, healthy green foliage—with resulting luxuriant blooms.

That is why gold medals have been won consistently by the amateur and professional growers who have adopted the Tri-ogen treatment.

Read the experiment recounted in the American Rose Annual which is reprinted here.

Black-Spot Control Substantiated

By EDWIN M. ROSENBLUTH, Wallingford, Pa.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—In the following brief article, Mr. Rosenbluth tells an amazing story, and he backs it up with convincing proof. We have omitted from the article the list of interested rosarians who visited his garden during the course of the test, some of whom have reported substantially the same thing to this office. We also ran a test of these materials at Breeze Hill last summer, following closely the directions given by Mr. Rosenbluth in last year's article. Never before has Breeze Hill been so free from black-spot and mildew infection. The one outstanding thing which we have learned from the past two years' study of Mr. Rosenbluth's methods is that thoroughness counts more than anything else. As Mr. Rosenbluth makes plain, it is essential to hit every portion of the plant with the spray, particularly the undersurfaces of the leaves. Spraying cannot be hurried—it must be a slow and painstaking job. We are so sure of this fact that we believe it is more important than the concentrated strength of the material used.

SHORTLY after the publication of the article "Black-Spot Can Be Controlled" in the American Rose Annual for 1932, we received a letter from Dr. L. M. Massey, Plant Pathologist of Cornell University, who appeared to be somewhat skeptical of the results which we obtained. He asked us whether we would be willing to leave a section of the garden unsprayed in 1932, to determine whether we had black-spot infection in the neighborhood, since none had appeared in the garden.

While we knew that there was plenty of black-spot infection in the neighborhood, we were confident in the efficacy of our treatment and gladly complied with the eminent doctor's request to see whether black-spot would develop.

Thirty-one plants in the eastern end of bed No. 6 were selected for the test. These were left entirely unsprayed. The western end of the bed was given our usual treatment along with the rest of the garden of 1200 or more plants.

Almost as soon as the plants in the untreated plot put out their new foliage, mildew appeared and aphides were much in evidence, soon followed by black-spot. The infection became worse from week to week, and between June 12 and 22 practically defoliated the plants. Rose-slugs ate holes in the remaining foliage.

On July 2, Mr. Bruce Parsons, Dr. Massey's assistant, came to the garden unannounced and saw the sad condition of the untreated plants and the complete immunity and perfect condition of the rest of the garden, which had been sprayed with Fungtrogen, Insectrogen, and Aphistrogen modified to be mixed together (Tri-ogen), as described in the article of last year.

On July 21, Dr. Massey visited the garden and said that he was satisfied that our claims were true. He remarked that the unsprayed plot was afflicted with every disease and insect that the rose is heir to, and he saw that the sprayed plants were free from any disease or insect pest, carrying luxuriant bloom and fine foliage down to the soil. The two photographs in Plate XVI facing page 104 tell the story better than words.

Dr. Massey was amazed at the fine condition of our treated plants and congratulated us. He also requested that we try to bring the diseased plot back to health. Since it is notorious that black-spot is difficult or impossible to control after it is once established, he seemed to be asking the impossible.

On July 22, we cut back the diseased plants and disinfected the soil with Terogen. Beginning on that date, the plot was sprayed every ten days with the combined sprays, following the schedule outlined last year, making certain that the spray was thoroughly applied to the vital undersurface of the foliage.

Immediately, improvement was noticed. The plants took on new foliage and renewed vigor, although the test occurred during the driest and hottest period of the summer. In about six weeks they were blooming and carrying abundant foliage absolutely free from disease or insect trouble.

I believe that this experiment conclusively proves that black-spot can be controlled and even cured. The two pictures in Plate XVII facing page 105 are the evidence of this proof.

Breeze Hill Gardens, Harrisburg, Pa.

At Breeze Hill we have, for many years, made an earnest attempt to find how we may keep our roses (including a very large collection) free from black-spot and mildew, as well as from insects. I have had to come to the conclusion that it is not only the primary fungicidal and insecticidal qualities one wants, but the persistence and thoroughness of application insisted on by the projectors of Tri-ogen which has undoubtedly been the most satisfactory of all the prescriptions. I have little fear that anyone who will honestly and religiously use Tri-ogen will be annoyed with conventional bugs and bothers.

J. HORACE MCFARLAND.

TRI-GEN SUCCEEDS EVERYWHERE

I can't recommend Tri-ogen too highly, as it has been a life-saver for our roses. I have recommended it to the gardeners around here and told them of its great value and the wonderful results I have received from using Tri-ogen.—GEORGE DE ADDIO, Gardener, William K. Barclay, 1 Gold House Rd., Haverford, Pa.

I have had the most wonderful roses this fall. They have been a great satisfaction and delight. Your Tri-ogen is marvelous in its results.—REV. CHAS. E. CRAGG, 91 Soundview Ave., Huntington, L. I.

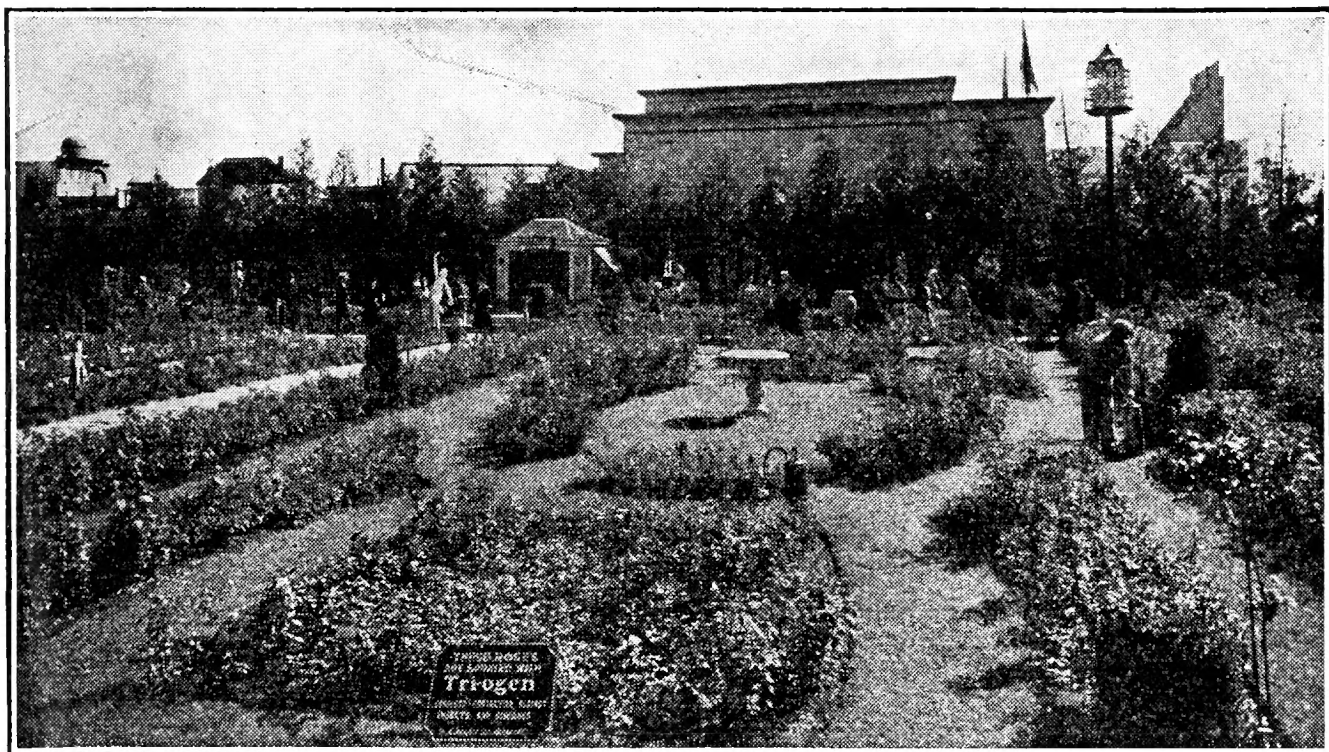

My roses, which up to this season have had a good deal of black-spot, have been entirely free from it and mildew. The foliage and general condition of the plants has never been so good; in fact, the members of the Garden Club of Mt. Desert remarked that they had never seen roses in finer condition. You have done rose-growers a great service!—MISS NINA H. BURNHAM, "Bagatelle," Bar Harbor, Maine.

It gives me great pleasure to report on the success we have had in our garden from the use of Tri-ogen. I believe it is the long-sought remedy for black-spot, mildew, and insects. Not only is our garden free from disease and insects, but the growth has also been remarkable.—MRS. J. C. COBB, Arlington Municipal Rose Garden, Arlington, Texas.

We have had wonderful success in the use of Tri-ogen and are very grateful that this splendid remedy has been discovered by you and made so available to all who need it. The Reinisch Rose Garden is looking better than I have ever seen it. Tri-ogen has been our redeemer. It is the best spray we have ever used. The plants are green and free from disease, and wonderfully vigorous; the leaves smooth and dark green. The blossoms are now excellent.—THOMAS F. DORAN, Reinisch Municipal Rose Garden, Topeka, Kansas.

We are using Tri-ogen for spray. In order to prove to the city that this was the best spray to use, I let them use my spray for the first month. Then they let me order for them and returned what they had used. It is the best ever, and a joy not to have the roses eaten up with aphides and worms and have the leaves drop off with black-spot. I have succeeded in getting a lot of people to use it. The foliage in our own garden is as clean and beautiful as can be.—MRS. CLIFFORD B. SMITH, Kansas City Rose Garden, Kansas City, Mo.

Now that the rose season is closed by Jack Frost we wish to tell you that 1933 will be remembered as a "vintage year" in rosedom. We partly attribute this great success and glory to the consistent use of Tri-ogen, applied regularly once a week.—JACKSON & PERKINS Co., Newark, N. Y.

TRI-GEN was officially adopted for the exclusive protection of the Garden of Roses at the CENTURY OF PROGRESS, Chicago World's Fair in 1933. So complete was its success that it was again selected for 1934.
